Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-21, drawn to a method of purifying a member of IL-10 family called MDA-7 protein utilizing affinity chromatography, classified in class 530, subclass 350.
- II. Claims 22-32, drawn to a method of purifying said MDA-7 protein utilizing anti-MDA-7 antibody affinity chromatography, gel filtration and anion exchange chromatography, classified in class 435, subclass 7.
- III. Claims 33-37, drawn to a method of treating cancer comprising administering MDA-7 protein to a patient, classified in class 514, subclass 12.
- IV. Claims 38-40, drawn to a method of radiosensitizing a cancer cell comprising administering a vector comprising DNA encoding MDA-7 protein to said cell, classified in class 435, subclass 6.
- V. Claims 41-43, drawn to a method of treating cancer comprising administering an NF-kB inhibitor and said MDA-7 protein to a patient, classified in class 424, subclass 130.1.
- VI. Claims 41-43, drawn to a method of treating cancer administering an NFkB inhibitor and DNA encoding said MDA-7 protein to a patient classified in class 514, subclass 44.
- VII. Claims 44-46, drawn to a method for inhibiting local invasiveness of cancer comprising administering MDA-7 protein to a patient, classified in class 514, subclass 12.

VIII. Claims 47-49, drawn to a method of inhibiting invasiveness of cancer comprising administering DNA encoding MDA-7 to a patient, classified in class 514, subclass 44.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

The methods of Groups I-VIII are patentably distinct each from the other because each method has different steps and different end-points.

Restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper because all these inventions listed in this action are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious search and examination burden if restriction were not required because one or more of the following reasons apply:

- (a) the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art in view of their different classification;
- (b) the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art due to their recognized divergent subject matter;
- (c) the inventions require a different field of search (for example, searching different classes/subclasses or electronic resources, or employing different search queries);
- (d) the prior art applicable to one invention would not likely be applicable to another invention;
- (e) the inventions are likely to raise different non-prior art issues under 35 U.S.C. 101 and/or 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse. Traversal must be presented at the time of election in order to be considered timely. Failure to timely traverse the requirement will result in the loss of right to petition under 37 CFR 1.144. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable on the elected invention.

If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable upon the elected invention.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
